The people who like to look upon the wine when it is red are having more difficulty all the time in securing as large a supply as they would wish.

A new regulation that came into effect on Monday now makes it compulsory for the imbibers of the grape to procure a special wine coupon ration book. This permit is very similar to the coupon ration book and allows for the purchase of three bottles of wine per week, providing they succeed in making their purchase before the daily or weekly quota in the stores has been exhausted.

There is no charge for the books but the applicant must produce his or her national ration card before a book will be issued. Information as to the due date and time of expiry of the coupons is printed in the book. Three become (Continued on page 6)

As a result, only four appeals against assessment were entered against the Roll and heard by Township council, sitting as a Court of Revision, on Saturday afternoon last.

The assessment of H. A. Tuer, Grimsby Beach, was reduced $350, owing to three-quarters of an acre being wrongfully assessed.

The assessment of $350 on the house and lot owned by J. H. McCallum, Grimsby Beach, was sustained. This property last year rented for $15 a month. On appeal to the Rental Board the rent was increased to $22 a month.

But That Was Back in 1920—100 Lbs. Today is Only $7.95 — Interesting Example of Price Control.

Two pounds of creamery butter cost $1.40 in a prominent Peterborough grocery store in 1920. The price was 78c in 1942. One hundred pounds of granulated sugar could be bought in this store for $22 in 1920, while 1942 accounts show the same size bag priced at $7.95.

Lard too, was high in 1920 with two pounds selling for 74c in that store and in 1942, the price there, was two for 35c. A 25 pound bag of flour is listed in 1920 to retail at $1.55. The 1942 price is 89c.

Taken from the records of this grocery store the comparative price list below is an interesting example of the effectiveness of price control.

John Describes True Christians

1 John 2:1-6; 3:13-18; 4:15-17.

GOLDEN TEXT—1 John 1:7.

An Introduction to The Lesson

John wrote several books, one the Gospel of John which tells us so much about the Lord Jesus Christ. In it He was on earth, and three letters which we call 1st, 2nd and 3rd John in which he writes many things about the love of God to us, and the love that all Christians should have for each other, and the love we should have for God. One of the things the world lacks today is love. God still loves the world, but the world does not love God. Even we who are Christians are far from being as loving as we ought. This awful war was caused by hate; if all people loved God and loved each other, there would be no wars.

The Heart of The Lesson

John tells us that true Christians love the brethren and will be willing to lay down their lives for others. John tells us that if we are born of the Spirit, God is in us. Unless a person is born again he cannot enter the Kingdom of God. (John 3). Only as the Gospel is spread and accepted, will love take the place of hate in this world. Three words that are prominent in John's Gospel—light—love and life—are again found in his epistles. John brings to us the greatest of all love statements—John 3:16. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him, should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Application

Perfect love is not something that we can find in our own hearts. It is the love of God in Christ which, apprehended by faith, leads us to love Him in return and to love all for whom Christ died. A love that does not result in actual service for others is not real love at all.

The Mushroom Tree

Whoever heard of mushrooms growing on a tree! Nobody in their sober senses, we hope. But mushrooms may and do grow under a tree, and so close to Main street that the wind from the traffic going by almost sweeps you off your feet as you stoop to lift them. Big juicy fellows, they are, and no farther from the firehall than the drinking fountain is from the Bowls.

Mushrooms that grow of their own sweet will, without let or hindrance, are a toothsome delicacy that the cultivated fungi can't hold a candle to.

There won't be any more mushrooms under the mushroom tree until the rains of autumn come, but sometime we'll have a talk about edible fungi and where they may be found,—not too far from Main street.

The Children's Book Man

Arthur Mee, the Englishman who wrote and compiled many books and edited a magazine and a newspaper for children has just died. We hope he left a band of well-trained disciples to carry on his work.

Among his best known publications were his Book of Knowledge, Children's Bible, My Magazine, and The Children's Newspaper, a weekly. Little Treasure Island is a delightful book about England.

All these should be in every home where there are children, and we would not deny them to anyone who has ever, at any time, been a child.

Any family of children brought up on Arthur Mee's literature will carry within themselves a passport to the world of beauty and goodness that ought to and may be ours.

Bovine Fly Swatter In The Battle Line

It is with much satisfaction we learn that a cow's tail is useful for other purposes than as a fly swatter. We've been smacked in the face too often at milking time by old Daisy Bell's tail after it has been soaked with mud and water when she insisted in wading through the pond on her way home from pasture in the evening to regret or resent a useful, even a noble, ending to an unpleasant episode.

It seems that the long hair in Bonnie's tail is now made use of for war purposes—in corvettes, destroyers and battleships. Even before the war it was used as a filter for the air conditioning of Pullman cars. If you had your Chesterfield suite before the war, it's likely there is a lot of cow tail hair in the filling.

Camel hair, no longer available because of the war, is now replaced, for artists' brushes, by the small tuft of fine silky hairs inside the cow's ear. It makes a high-grade brush.

A Bar of Yellow Soap

Once more we raise our voice in a spring song of warning against that arch enemy of our summer jaunts and picnics—Poison Ivy. Part of Murray street simply crawled with it ever since it (Murray street) emerged from the virgin forest up to as recent a time as last summer. Probably does so still. The first responsibility for its dissemination rests, we think, with the person occupying the property nearest the dangerous enemy. Make sure the children are familiar with its appearance so they may avoid it.

Some unfortunates are so allergic to the poison that they are likely to be attacked if they happen within ten feet of the virulent vegetable.

The best known antidote is to wash the parts effected with strong cheap laundry soap as soon as the first irritation is felt. It's the alkali in the soap that does the trick. A worthwhile bit of fore-sight is to always take along a slab of yellow laundry soap in one's pocket when going on a hike any time of the year.

If the poison gets beyond this simple treatment, then a visit to the Doctor's office is in order without delay, for many painful weeks. The poisoning has been known to linger on for many painful weeks. The doctor will probably prescribe a saturated solution of lead acetate in diluted alcohol, or a solution of one part of lead acetate and two parts diluted alcohol, or a solution of one part of lead acetate and two parts diluted alcohol, or a solution of one part of lead acetate and two parts diluted alcohol.

We wish you all a happy, useful summer without recourse to the yellow bar of soap or the busy doctor.

The Path Through The Fields

A feature of post war planning in England, we see by the papers, is to be winding roads instead of straight ones. The winding road, it is felt, more nearly typifies the character of England.

And what of the picturesque English field path, the shortest line between two points? Many of these paths, the unassailable right of the English people, have been in use for a good thousand years, or the English people, have been in use for a good thousand years, or the English people, have been in use for a good thousand years.

The field path goes through cultivated fields, woods, meadows, over sacred race tracks and golf links, fords streams, crosses railway lines, canals, and churchyards. No law can stop it or the people who use it. The farmer ploughs through it each season and sows his crops over it, but the path will be back in use before the ploughman leaves the field at sun down.

In a south coast English county we came upon an exquisite miniature bridge of red brick over a railway line. The bridge was not more than three feet wide, and connected the two parts of a field path that had been severed when the railway was built. One mounted the bridge and descended from it by a flight of red brick steps at either end.

The paths join little lost villages lying off the main roads that no one ever sees but the people who live there. They are the nearest way for the country people to get to church. The children go that way to school. The postman knows them all, so does the district nurse, but it's a bit of a bother getting her bicycle through the various types of field gates and stiles she meets on the way. She saves time going round the road. These same field gates deserve a chapter all to themselves; it would take a book to do them justice. There is a path all round England's coast line.

If one wants to see the real England, one takes the carefree foot path and leaves the roads, even though they may wind, to the mere motorist or tourist.

By Rule Of Thumb

To measure by "rule of thumb" means to take no exact measure of something, but to use such means as are nearest at hand. It is rough guess-work measure.

We get the expression from an old custom of measuring lengths by the size of the thumb. Women sometimes estimate inch lengths by their thumbs, and in some parts of England and America countrymen always measure by their thumbs. It is believed that the old measurement, a nail "sixteen nails make a yard," has some relation to the length of the thumbnail, although a sixteenth of a yard—that is, two inches and a quarter—certainly would denote a very long thumbnail. —Everyday Sayings.

We Thank Thee, Lord!

For light and air; sweet sense of sound and smell;
For ears to hear the heavenly harmonies;
For eyes to see the unseen in the seen;
For vision of The Worker in the work;
For hearts to apprehend Thee everywhere;
For that sweet impulse of the coming spring;
For ripening summer, and the harvesting;
For all the rich autumnal glories spread;
The flaming pageant of the ripening woods;
The fiery gorse, the heather-purpled hills;
The rustling leaves that fly before the wind,
And lie below the hedgerows whispering;
For meadows silver-white with hoary dew;
For sheer delight of tasting once again
That first crisp breath of winter in the air;
For all that makes for quiet in the world;
For all that lifts man from his common rut;
For every wide-flung window of the soul;
WE THANK THEE, LORD!

PILFERERS LIABLE TO $5,000 PENALTY

"Receiving rationed goods without coupons," the maximum penalty for which is $5,000 and two years' imprisonment, will be charged against persons found pilfering rationed goods, it is announced by enforcement administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. The action is intended to curb an increase in thefts of butter, sugar, tea and coffee reported by stores in some sections of the country. In cases of prosecution for shoplifting of rationed goods, the Board will join the store in the complaint and ask for penalties as provided for contravention of Board rationing orders.

Be a FARM COMMANDO

We can't Fight if We don't Eat!

HELP PRODUCE FOOD FOR VICTORY

PLAN to spend half a day, a day, or several evenings a week on local farms during the haying and harvesting seasons this summer. Join the thousands of Farm Commandos who "close up shop" or lay down their tools to make "raids" into the country and help farmers take their farms into the land.

Farm Commando Brigades are springing up in Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, Service Clubs, Churches and other men's organizations all over Ontario. Townsmen are getting together to make a direct, patriotic contribution to the War Effort by helping to save the crops.

Farm Commandos are paid a minimum of twenty-five cents an hour, and many Commandos contribute these earnings to favourite war charities.

If there is no Farm Commando Brigade forming in your locality, take it up with your own men's organization and get your local Brigade started at once.

Every possible man-hour must be put in during harvesting to prevent irreplaceable loss of food that is essential to the Allied War Effort and to Canada herself!

Your help is needed—NOW! Volunteer in a Farm Commando Brigade and be ready to help when harvest emergencies arise. For full information, forms, etc., write to Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, at once.

Women's Institute

At the invitation of the Airwomen of the R.C.A.F. Station at Dunnville, members of the Women's Institute are planning to attend an "At Home" given by the Dunnville Airwomen on Thursday, June 24th.

The Institute has arranged for transportation for the trip, and Mrs. L. E. Larsen, secretary of the Branch, will be pleased to hear from any one who would like to join the Institute in this expedition to the R.C.A.F. Station at Dunnville to see the airwomen at their work.

DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING LINCOLN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Last Thursday marked the district annual of Lincoln County Institutes, held at Trinity hall with more than 200 delegates and visitors in attendance at the all-day session.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. George Warner, president of Grimsby Branch, and responded to by County President, Mrs. F. Jeffrey, of Beamsville.

Then followed a brief but impressive ceremony of remembrance, conducted by Rev. W. J. Watt, for the men of the armed forces who have given their lives in the cause of freedom, also for those members of the County Institutes who have passed away, during the year. As a fitting conclusion, Kipling's Recessional was sung by Mrs. L. E. Larsen.

Concise reports of work accomplished by standing committees over the previous twelve months were presented by Mrs. L. E. Larsen, Grimsby, Agriculture and Canadian Industries; Mrs. A. R. Gayman, Vineland, Citizenship; Mrs. Howard Fisher, Queenston, Home Economics; Mrs. George Hinton, St. Ann's, Publicity; Mrs. F. B. Gilleland, Louth, Social Welfare; Mrs. Edwin Secord, St. Catharines, Historical Research. Mrs. Secord also gave the report on War Work. These standing committees are to be congratulated for having carried on through the many difficulties engendered by war conditions, and to them great credit is due for keeping up morale on the home front.

The election of officers, conducted by Miss Lulu Rowe, of the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, resulted as follows:

Honorary president, Mrs. J. S. Davis, Smithville; president, Mrs. W. C. Lyburner, Smithville; first vice-president, Mrs. A. R. Gayman, Vineland; second vice-president, Mrs. C. S. Rickers, Port Dalhousie; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Thompson, Beamsville; auditors, Mrs. J. A. Saxsmith, St. Ann's and Mrs. E. L. Elson, Smithville.

For the 1943-44 period the following were appointed conveners of standing committees: Mrs. L. E. Larsen, Grimsby, Agriculture and Canadian Industries; Mrs. Roy Thornton, Vineland, Citizenship; Mrs. Walter Green, Caistor Centre, Home Economics; Mrs. George Hinton, St. Ann's, Publicity; Mrs. F. B. Gilleland, St. Catharines, Social Welfare; Mrs. Edwin Secord, St. Catharines, Historical Research; Mrs. R. C. Houston, Jordan, War Work.

That the sugar situation was the main problem in the minds of the Institute members was shown by the one resolution adopted by the meeting, asking that more sugar

Girl Guides

At the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, the Girl Guides packed 10 shelter bags ready for shipping to Dominion Headquarters in Toronto. Each bag is filled with 12 articles and valued at $2.00. These bags are to be sent to "bombed out Guides" in the British Isles. The Guides made the bags and contributed the articles in them at Christmas instead of exchanging gifts.

The Guides are collecting old keys for salvage. Some of the best metal is to be found in keys. On Saturday morning, the Guides are going to make a house-to-house canvass for this salvage. They ask that everyone hunt out any old keys that have no further use and have them ready when a Guide calls at the door. A large box will be placed in the Model Dairy to receive them and if anyone is accidentally overlooked or is not at home on Saturday morning, the keys can be left there anytime on Saturday or Monday.

The next Guide meeting will take the form of a supper hike up the mountain. The Guides will meet at the home of Mrs. L. A. Bromley, Main St. W., at 5:45 p.m.

The annual church parade will be held on Sunday, June 27th, when the Guides, Brownies and Scouts will parade to St. Andrew's Anglican Church.

LITERARY MEETING

The June Literary meeting of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter held on Monday afternoon was a most delightful affair. Arranged by Miss Cline, Convener of the Literary Committee, the program was given by the Guides and Brownies, Mrs. G. A. Sinclair kindly loaning her garden for the purpose, and in that pleasant setting an interesting demonstration was given by the children.

From behind clumps of flowering shrubs the Brownies scampered in to make a fairy ring around their toadstool. Trained by their Brown Owl, Mrs. T. A. Gammage, they showed how practical helpfulness is part of their imaginative fairy life. They played a knock game and sent a semaphore message. Then the little brown fairies disappeared and left the garden to the Guides.

The Enrolment Ceremony followed, the Guides forming into a Horseshoe, and after joining in singing, God Save the King, the enrolled Jennie Klovak in the Guide troop.

The Division Commissioner, Miss H. Walsh, spoke briefly, emphasizing the special direction which Guide work can take in wartime. Two branches of First Class work and two of Second Class were then demonstrated, all of which are in constant practice by Guides in England where a raid may have demolished homes or left little children motherless. The Needlewoman's Badge work was on view and called forth much praise. The training for it had been given by Mrs. Alex Scott. Three of the Guides, Geraldine Marsh, Betty Shantz and Barbara Bromley then presented Mrs. L. A. Bromley, the Regent, with the jackets they had made for children in a bombed-out area. Lieut. Scott making the speech of presentation.

The Child Nurse Badge was demonstrated by Geraldine Marsh, Betty Shantz, Barbara Bromley and Marilyn Milyard, in a dialogue. Eleven Guides passed this test, prepared by Mrs. G. A. Sinclair.

A message in the Morse code was transmitted by a team composed of Geraldine Marsh, Isabel Stevenson, Pauline Reece, Mary Johnson, and Adeline Campbell. When read out it proved to be the motto of the Chapter, "In Unity is Strength."

Outdoor firebuilding was efficiently demonstrated by Barbara Bromley and Majorie Morton, as used in England after a raid, and concluded with a Camp-Fire song. Much credit is due Captain M. Cullingford and Lieut. M. Scott, for the efficient carrying out of this part of the program.

Just before taps and dismissal, the Division Commissioner, Miss Walsh, presented to Mrs. Sinclair, amid prolonged applause, the Thanks Badge of the Canadian Girl Guides Association, "with our love and gratitude for all her devoted help and interest in our work."

Awakened by the terrific clap of thunder, Mr. Hill saw his barn burst into flames. Without waiting to dress, he rushed to the building and managed to save a mare and colt. Two other horses which he led out ran back into the blazing barn and were burned to death together with three goats. A quantity of hay and some implements were also lost.

Joseph Sobyte, his son, William Sobyte, and Edw. Brubaker, Thirty Mountain farmers, have completed their seeding as the result of unfavourable weather delayed activities unable to get the crop sown, but with the first break the three energetic farmers acted on the sun advice to "make hay while the sun shines." They started in at 9 o'clock in the morning, ploughed, harrowed and sowed nine acres of the Sobyte farm, then stopped for supper. After the evening meal they ploughed and disced another 14 acres and as the sun came up to call it a day's work. By operating on the 24-hour shift they now have a total of 23 acres in production.

Yum! Yum!! Y-u-u-m!!! Yellow Pickerel. Right out of the cold waters of Northern Ontario. What a delicious dish to set before a half starved newspaperman. Thanks to Casablanca Hoboken Rushton, Ye Ed. had at least one real meal last week. The Big Barber supplied the pickerel and Ma done the cooking. Rush and his pals had great luck. They brought back their full legal quota of the luscious "Picks" and their friends have all been feasting. Of course the big one that weighed about 29 pounds got away.

Struck by lightning during the severe electrical storm which swept this district during Saturday night, a barn on the farm of Samuel Hill, about three miles north of Grimsby, was burned to the ground.

By making a fast six-mile run to Grassies Friday afternoon local firemen prevented destruction of a barn by fire when a straw stack against one end of the barn took fire. The blaze was on the farm of Myron Gulka, who was away at the time. Don Hysert, a neighbour, managed to keep the fire in check till other neighbours arrived to assist. Fortunately there was a good well on the place and firemen soon had a line of hose in action.

GRIMSBY SALESMAN

This time he is going where the big beef steers come from. The idea being that the ranchers have turned to the spray machine as a means of killing the Warble Fly, one of the worst pests that the cattleman has to contend with. Now they contemplate herding the bovines together and giving them a good spraying via the Hardie Machine route.

If the idea works Clarence W. will not henceforth be known as a Cow Puncher but as a Fly Puncher.

He is the third Grimsby boy, so far in this war, to be decorated. The others being Lieut-Commander Herbert Shaples Rayner, R. C. N., who was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross in March of 1941, "for courage and enterprise in action against the enemy," and Flying Officer John Rutledge, who received the Distinguished Flying Cross last March.

BLOOD CLINIC

Red Cross will be here and will be used for some of the donors.

The local committee have approximately 200 donors on their list and it depends upon how many will be left on the list when this clinic is over whether another clinic will be held in July or donations will cease until the fall season. Of the 100 donors next week, 15 will be ladies.

Trinity hall is being transformed into a temporary hospital. Beds, mattresses, tables, cabinets, etc., are being provided by the Metal Craft Co. The foodstuffs and coffee and other details will be looked after by the girls from the White Elephant shop who have already been to Hamilton and taken a short course in this work. Donations for the donors are being donated by the A. & P. Store.

Centuries-old oak bark tanneries in Great Britain are now working hard on hides for Army boots, belts and other Army needs. In many cases women are doing the work because of the shortage of skilled craftsmen. The tanneries are also producing hides for agricultural purposes, for saddlery and bedding gloves.

200 CHANGES

It. A year ago W. H. Stevens, owner of the property appealed against his assessment of $2,300. Court of Revision refused to reduce it. He appealed to the Judge's Court and County Judge Stanbury, reduced the assessment to $1,300, providing that the building be razed by October. A certain amount of wrecking was done. Since that time the steel work has been frozen by the government and the Selective Service division refuse to provide labor in order to demolish the rest of the building. In view of this situation, Court of Revision reduced the $1,300 assessment to $700 on the building. The land is still assessed for $350.

The $350 assessment on the six acres of land owned by Mr. Wyse was sustained. The drab atmosphere of the Court of Revision was brightened considerably when council went into session, by the appearance before the council of Mrs. George Warner and Mrs. Les Larsen, on behalf of the Women's Institute, to help them in their efforts to obtain the $600 allotted to this organization in Lincoln County, for the canning of jam for the British people. Council as a whole were of the opinion that a donation of this type should come from the Salvage Fund. On motion of Councilor Mitchell the Institute was given $25, and advised to interview Jas. A. Wray with a view to getting a donation from the Salvage Committee.

It cost the Township $1,097 for snow removal last winter. Up to date $3,571 has been expended on Township roads. Supt. Mackie reported that owing to the continuous rains he had been compelled to plane the dirt roads three times. At present he is giving them a coat of calcium.

A resolution from Saltfleet Township council regarding sugar, was endorsed. The liability of $1,265,622. of Hydro Radial Railways bonds, which have been held in trust by the Provincial Treasurer since 1919, has been cancelled and cremated. That is a worry off Finance Minister Crittenden's mind.

A motion was passed to give Reeve Durham authority to issue a Tax Sale Warrant on all properties four years or more in arrears.

On the suggestion of Councilor Mitchell, a place and yet to be selected, will be used in at the tax sale to be used as a dump for Township garbage.

John W. Bowdlaugh and 27 other ratepayers of the Township, living west of the Woolverton mountain, on the mountain, presented a petition that the Woolverton mountain road be opened as soon as possible. Supt. Mackie stated that it would be, but in view of the fact that three slides had occurred on this road this year it was advisable to let the earth and rock settle before opening up the thoroughfare.

"Home factories" in Great Britain, where volunteers devote their spare time to war production, are springing up in fire stations, country cottages, A.R.P. Depot shops, warehouses, front parlours and back kitchens.

The Women's Land Army (of which H.M. the Queen is Patron) was formed on June 1st 1939, to supplement the existing agricultural labour and as a result, when war broke out, 1,000 volunteers were immediately placed in employment. Its present employed strength is over 70,000 and it is anticipated that this number will be very considerably increased before the end of this year.

175 Farmerettes In The District

About 175 girls from central Ontario cities are now in the Niagara district to help plant or harvest early vegetables and to help when the first fruits are ready for picking.

The farmerette centre at Nixon Hall, Grimsby, opened with 20 girls on Monday.

About fifteen girls who had been stationed at the camp at the experimental farm at Vineland were moved last Wednesday to the St. Catharines camp on the Tregunno farm, Carleton St., and about 35 girls moved in to take their place in the Vineland area. Plans for opening two eastern camps at Queenston have been delayed due to the late season, but the centre at "Riverview", Queenston, will open about June 21st, and the other established Queenston centre on the Larkin Farm will open a week later, each with fifty girls.

Four private camps are now operating. Six girls, most of them from Toronto, arrived on Wednesday at the Canadian Cannery's farm, St. David's, while other girls are already established in private centres on the farms of Ira Moyer, Beamsville; A. A. Smith, Vineland; and E. D. Smith, Jordan.

MUST FORWARD COUPONS FOR MEAT IN LOCKERS

Consumers, including farmers, who had meat stored in lockers on May 27 are required to report their holdings to the ration office of the Prices Board before June 30. They must also turn in coupons to cover their holdings at the rate of one coupon for each two pounds of meat held. Total number of coupons surrendered by a holder need not exceed 50 per cent. of the total number of coupons in the ration books of all the consumers in this household.

The above hints were contributed by the local Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

THE "CABLE PARADE"

CANADIAN NATIONAL Telephone men and women call it the "cable parade" because it develops each time general leave is granted to airmen receiving instruction at one of the larger training centres in Canada.

Young men from many parts of the Empire are trained here under the Commonwealth plan. On arriving at their depot or on the eve of furlough they stroll the nearest telephone and cable offices to read messages to the folks at home.

St. Catharines, Ontario.
June 5th, 1943.

Mr. Charles W. Durham,
Warden Lincoln County,
Grimsby Beach, Ontario,
Dear Mr. Durham:-

Re: Lake Ontario Was'age.

Under date of June 2nd I have received a line from your Clerk and Treasurer, with respect to a possible request of the Federal Government, in connection with protection of the shore line along Lake Ontario.

Mr. Millward has indicated that you have sponsored the proposal and suggests that I might write you in this connection.

My understanding has always been that all inland shore lines come under the jurisdiction of the Provincial Government. It is possible, however, that any post-war development, such as you have advanced, may be a Federal matter.

I would appreciate your further advice and direction, in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

NJML/M. N. J. M. Lockhart.

INQUIRY INTO

time of the fire were. $1200 on barn; $2200 on the dwelling house; $2700 on household goods and furniture. Policies on farm produce for $2500, in barn and dwelling, had expired on March first.

Paul Smith, the first witness sworn, stated that he was driving east on No. 8 highway and when about two miles east of Winona noticed a bright flare in the sky over the mountain edge. It seemed to flash up all of a sudden. He turned his car around and drove back to the 50 mountain and went up the mountain and came east on the Ridge road until he reached the fire, which was the Lambert barn. There was not a living soul around the place. Tried to wake neighbors and couldn't. Drove on down the Ridge Road until he met Gordon Metcalfe. They awoke the Gibson family and an alarm was turned in. He then drove back to the fire and there was still no one around the place. The roof of the barn was completely gone by then, only the frame work of the walls standing. House was smoking at the time he first reached the fire. Later had been in the house and noticed that the rooms were furnished. Did not see any farm produce. Wind was blowing from the North almost directly South.

Mrs. Jean Utter who lives in the old Alway stone house west of the Lambert place, stated that at about nine o'clock there had been what she and her husband thought was an explosion, but they could locate nothing that might have caused one. The report was very loud and the house shook. At 1.30 in the morning she observed flames. On going outside she could see that it was the Lambert barn. She did not know Lambert.

Fire Chief Alf. LePage swore, that he had received a fire call at 1.50 a.m. on the morning of March 2nd and had proceeded to the scene with one fire truck and a complement of firemen. The barn was totally razed upon arrival. The house was filled with smoke. Could not determine the exact spot of the fire so poured water into cellar.

V/indows were all closed, doors were all closed but unlocked. Opened windows and doors to get smoke out. Fire was in the south-east corner of the cellar, burning in fruit baskets. Everything was closed tightly. There were not many people there. Smoke was coming out under the eaves and wherever it could get out. There was no fire on the outside of the house and it could not have been caused from the barn. Believed they were two separate fires. Wind was blowing straight south. Basement had empty baskets and a few hampers of rotten apples in it. No other farm produce in any of the rooms. Some rooms were furnished, some not. Quite positive that an ember from the barn could not get into the cellar.

Clyde Alway sold the property on a deal for a trucking business in Hamilton in May, 1942. Property was valued in the deal at $6,500. He figured that a fair, straight cash value in 1942 would have been $4,500. He thought it would cost more than $1,200 to replace the barn.

Stewart Jefferies of Vinemount had been in Grimsby on the night in question and left for home at 12.30 a.m. Just west of the Woolverton mountain he passed a man with a light fedora hat and a light overcoat walking. He held his head down when passing the car, possibly because of the strong headlights. He did not know the man, but considered that he was of medium build. There was no sign of a light or a fire at the Lambert farm when he passed it a few minutes later. It was a very clear night. He had since seen the overcoat and hat of Lambert and in the car lights they looked the same as the ones worn by the man walking down the road.

Percy Lambert, on the witness stand for over two hours, told of a trade whereby he sold a Hamilton trucking business to Clyde Alway, of Grimsby, and acquired the Alway farm as part payment in February, 1942. Closely questioned as to his whereabouts on the night of the fire, he said he had come from Hamilton on the midnight bus, going to a local restaurant and then directly to his room at Hotel Grimsby. He said he had taken out insurance policies for $1,200 on barn, $2,200 on dwelling, $2,700 on household goods and also $1,000 on farm produce in barns and $1,500 on produce in house. Insurance on produce, taken for three months, expired on March 1, and he denied absolutely having asked an insurance agent to renew the policies.

Lloyd Knox, insurance agent, swore that on the evening of March 2d when he went to collect insurance premium due from Lambert told him that policies on produce had expired on March 1, Lambert had said, "Some of that stuff is still up there and you had better hold it covered. He had also asked that a trailer in the barn be insured. "As a result of this conversation," Knox testified, "I wrote the Wawanesa company asking them to continue $2,500 coverage on produce and to add $400 for trailer." The fire happened before policies could be renewed.

Axis Prisoners Taken During 8th Army's Drive At Gabes

The turning of the Mareth Defences and the destruction of a large apt of the Afrika Korps was carried out by a rapid and perfectly organized out-flanking movement which will make military history. When General Montgomery saw that the bridgehead at Mareth could not be held without considerable loss of life and equipment, he switched the main attack west to El Hamma, driving on Rommel's right (southern) flank. Rommel was completely outfought and outgeneralled. The 8th Army advanced through El Hamma and entered Gabes among cheering crowds of townspeople. Photo shows: Italian prisoners of war marching back through 8th Army lines in the El Hamma area.

Warden At Work

In air raids the presence of unprotected lights both inside and out act as a sign post for enemy planes. In a test air raid the same lights attract the district A.R.P. Warden. Here he is warning a householder that the porch lights must be turned out and kept out while the raid is in progress. In a dimout area a porch light or other exterior lights should be kept turned off in order to save electrical power for war plants.

Your Income Tax....

MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE, CANADA

FELLOW CANADIAN

I would like to remind the two million taxpayers of Canada of their obligation to file a 1942 Income Tax Return before the 30th of June.

This year, the forms have been simplified so that they can be completed with a minimum of time and effort.

The Income Tax dollars that Canadians pay are necessary in our present struggle. They are an investment in our future peace and security. They are fighting dollars.... Victory dollars.

Income Tax is fair to all, as each person is taxed in accordance with his ability to pay.

There is no easy way to win a war. Almost half the costs of this war must be paid by taxes. I know that the Income Tax is not a pleasant burden, but I also know that to win the war, Canadians are willing to fulfil their obligations.... to pay the price and to shoulder their responsibilities with the same unbeatable spirit as shown by those who have gone from our shores to fight.

PRICE CEILINGS SET FOR NEW POTATOES

Effective June 7 prices of new potatoes must not exceed the law-fy ceiling prices for Canada No. 1 grade old potatoes. It is not expected that new Canadian potatoes will appear on the market until around July 15.

Grimsbey Library Board Meeting

The increase in outdoor activities during the late spring and early summer marks a corresponding drop in circulation at the Public Library.

The total circulation for April was down 82 from March, while the May report shows a reduction of 189 from April in all classes. This is proof that the people of the township and town are spending more time in the Great Outdoors.

The girls of the Farm Service Force, operating from Grimsby, will again be permitted to borrow books from the Public Library. To this end the Board at their meeting on Thursday evening last, drew up a form which will admit these temporary but very welcome residents to the privileges of the library. As well as the signature of the borrower, the form also requires the recommendation of a ratepayer who agrees to indemnify the Library Board for any books not returned by the borrower. These forms may be obtained from the Librarian.

51,321 individual shareholders own Canada's Chartered Banks. The average holding is 28 shares. Most of these shareholders are Canadians.

The wide distribution of bank ownership is indicated by the fact that 35,574 individuals, living in all parts of Canada, hold shares in the Chartered Banks of Canada. Of the remaining shareholders, 8,987 live elsewhere in the British Empire.

Some further facts about Canada's Banks:

There are 4,369,740 savings deposit accounts in the Chartered Banks of Canada, averaging $391 each. Safeguarding the funds of depositors is a primary function of commercial banking. Banks keep themselves in such a position that anybody going to the bank to withdraw his savings can get his money. Banks, like any other business, exist because they provide service which a community needs and is willing to pay for at a rate which will yield a reasonable return.

Every day, bank loans are helping Canadians in all walks of life and in all parts of Canada to profit from their individual enterprise and industry.
